

BECOMING AN INTERNATIONAL PARTNER

ConsultingTools is extending its network of Strategic Business Partners (SBPs). We would like to invite any interested parties into discussion about the opportunities and benefits afforded from a business partnership with us.

The principal benefits for SBPs stem from them being able to extend their capability, increase turnover, and expand their core business virtually by accessing:

- a family of developed and proven products available in a number of languages specifically designed by consultants for use by consultants and HR professionals out in the field.
- a range of on-line tools and services that have been developed in conjunction with and used by consultants in their work with their clients.

ConsultingTools is a state-of-the-art provider at the leading edge in its business sector. We have made a significant investment in our business - in people, technology, processes and also in product and services development. We have made changes to the way we carry out business, especially with international clients in mind. As well as continuing to work directly with international clients, we have developed and will continue to expand our network of strategic business partners.

These business partners work in collaboration with us. They represent ConsultingTools in their local market, using our products and services within their own local client base to mutual benefit, and in some instances provide high quality tools to supplement and complement those of ConsultingTools.

We view our strategic business partners as a key component in maintaining and developing our presence and business expansion plans in the international marketplace. ConsultingTools is committed to continuous improvement in service and delivery, with quality standards and client needs being met through:

- a team of dedicated staff who are focused on client needs and the success of our products and services
- a broad range of up to date user-friendly products and services
- IT systems that offer the highest standards of security and data protection

If you are interested in becoming a ConsultingTools Strategic Business Partners we would be interested to hear from you, particularly if you are in a country where we do not currently have a presence in. Please contact the office on 0845 370 0235 or email info@consultingtools.com.
